There's never been a better time to come to a Spiritual Care Australia Conference!

The theme – Roads less travelled – invites us to reflect on the roads we take and the ones we leave when offering spiritual care.

There will be keynote speakers, panel discussions, workshops and seminars, and opportunities to network with colleagues from around the country.

Everyone engaging in spiritual care is welcome – whether you work in aged care, community care, congregational care, crisis / emergency, defence, education, general health care, mental health, prisons, sports, or any other sector.

The 2020 Conference will be very affordable. Registration costs have been kept at 2019 prices and inexpensive accommodation is available on the campus of the Sydney Adventist Hospital in Wahroonga, NSW.

Come to Sydney on Saturday, 27 June, and attend the research intensive in the city. Have the day at leisure before making your way out to the Conference on Sunday afternoon.

Our speakers

Geraldine Doogue, long-time host of ABC programs dealing with things of the spirit

Author and researcher David Tacey on spirituality in Australia today

George Fitchett, long-time researcher and educator in spiritual care

Elizabeth MacKinlay, ground-breaking researcher into the spiritual needs of ageing people

Ethicist Dan Fleming, back on request after Conference 2019

Experienced spiritual care worker Paul Scott sharing his wisdom on trauma and emergency services

Claire Williams, popular facilitator from Newcastle in 2018, will be with us again

PLUS – expert panels and Q&A exploring our own groundedness and spirituality AND where to next in spiritual care education
